

PEOPLE WITH INTELLECTUAL DISABILITIES

People with intellectual disabilities such as Down's syndrome or developmental delays can have difficulties with sensory integration, communication and some cognitive processes, presenting psychomotor, communication and/or behavioral issues.

We offer numerous products for creating stimulating activities and experiences that enhance learning, participation and autonomy.

BJLive! not only designs and creates this type of experience, but has also provided training to the major associations in Spain in this field. We put our expertise at the disposal of anyone with an intellectual disability.
